RE: 4287029 Canada Inc. ("Global Village")
& Berger, Emrich, Valencak ("BEV") &
Daniel Cavallaro ("Cavallaro")

Dear Colleague :

We write you on behalf of Global Village and BEV and respond to your letter addressed to BEV of June 27, 2007 on behalf of Cavallaro. The books and records of Global Village indicate that your client is not and has at no time been the beneficial owner of the shares of Global Village. Your client Mr. Cavallaro has moreover recognized this fact in writing to the beneficial owner and to third parties.

Both your client and Mr. Strecko, his alleged representative, have falsely represented themselves to BEV as being entitled to the books and records of Global Village, Mr. Cavallaro in respect of his statement that he is the owner of the shares of Global Village of which he is not, and Mr. Strecko in respect of stating that he is an authorized representative of a police authority and at other times stating that he is a trustee in bankruptcy entitled to the books and records of Global Village.

Your client is well aware that the advance given to BEV and to which you refer was not from Cavallaro's funds but from funds provided by the beneficial owner of the shares of Global Village, Cavallaro at no time ever advancing any funds to Global Village. Moreover BEV's mandate does not come from your client but comes from the shareholder of Global Village.

Kindly advise your client and his representative that any further false representations on his part or that of his representative will cause our client to formulate a criminal complaint for false and fraudulent representations.

Do you govern yourselves accordingly.

Yours very truly,

STEIN & STEIN INC.
